

Two Gunmen Get $120,000 At Wayne U.

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police were searching today for two gunmen who held up a late-working cashier at Wayne State University and took approximately $120,000.

Police say the two got about $50,000 in cash and another $70,000 in checks.

Cashier Edward Bernier, 34, told police he was just about to leave his office on the first floor of the university's registration center around eight p.m. when he was confronted by an armed Negro who held university guard Chester Idack, 47, in front of him.

The man threatened to shoot Oldack unless Bernier opened the office, the cashier said.

Inside the office, Bernier said, he was forced to open the vault. The bandit took the money and had Bernier carry it out of the building in three university-owned leather suitcases and a blue mail sack brought by the bandit.

A second armed bandit met the group at the front door, and the two university men were forced to accompany the robbers to a nearby parking lot, Bernier said.

There, the two men were released unharmed. The robbers fled in a car parked apparently around a corner, out of the victim's sight.

Danish Princess Is Queen At 18

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Constantine of the Hellenes wed Denmark's beautiful Princess Anne-Marie today amid the Byzantine magnificence of Athens' Greek Orthodox Cathedral.

Anne Marie, 18, became the queen of Greece and the world's youngest queen. At 24 her husband is the world's youngest monarch.

She was a gorgeous bride and the dark-haired king a strikingly handsome bridegroom.

It was a spectacularly colorful ceremony, but it had its very human moments — when Anne-Marie giggled, and when Queen

Mother Frederika came close to hitting Britain's Prince Charles with one of the two crowns used in Greek Orthodox weddings.

Charles did not duck, but he eyed the heavy crowns with concern.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth III was the only reigning European monarch not present. Preparing for a visit to Canada, she sent her husband, Prince Philip. Her two teen-age children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, were members of the wedding party.

The 45-minute service was conducted by Archbishop Chrysostomos, 85-year-old primate of Greece's Orthodox Church. Looking on was Patriarch Alexei of Moscow and all Russia.

Also on hand was a glittering gathering of kings, queens, princesses and princes. President Johnson was represented by his daughter Lynda Bird. A scorching sun burned from a cobalt blue sky, and inside the cathedral the 1,600 guests and principals looked very warm.

New Food Plant At Greenville To Employ 400

GREENVILLE (AP)—Groundbreaking ceremonies for a new $2 million food processing plant to employ an estimated 400 persons here will be held Monday.

The plant will be occupied by Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., which now employs some 2,000 persons at facilities in Ontario, Ore., and Burley, Idaho.

It is the first major industry to locate here in 25 years. Greenville stores and businesses will be closed for one hour Monday in order for personnel to take part in welcoming the new industry with an "Ore-Ida day" celebration.

Gov. George Romney has accepted an invitation to take part on the speakers' program along with F. Nephri Grigg, president of Ore-Ida, and Golden Grigg, vice president.

Operating sections of the new plant will specialize in potato processing while other portions will serve as a storage center to serve company patrons in the East and Midwest.

Highway Traffic In Michigan Hits Record For July

ONAWAY (AP) — Michigan highways carried more traffic during July than any other month in state history, Chief Highway Department Engineer John E. Meyer said Thursday night.

Meyer, speaking at a dedication of a $1 million modernization project on M-33, said about 3.7 billion miles were traveled during the month, up nearly 9 per cent from July 1963.

He said motorists logged 22.5 billion miles during the first seven months of this year, up from 20.8 billion for the same period of 1963.

Rebels Driven Back In Congo

The national army headquarters said Thursday that it controls Kongo, leaving only a few pockets of resistance further south.

Two 'Nice Guys' Seek No. 2 Spot On GOP Ticket

DETROIT (AP) — There should be plenty of volunteers to hold their coats today as two of "the nicest guys" in the Michigan Legislature battle down to the wire for the privilege of sharing the Republican ticket with Gov. George Romney.

Sen. William Milliken, R-Traverse City, and House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, are leading contenders for the lieutenant governor's slot on the ballot—to be filled at the two-day Republican state convention opening today.

A highlight of the convention will be the appearance of former Vice President Richard Nixon, who will deliver the keynote address Saturday.

Both Milliken and Green are personable, well-liked and respected in their respective chambers. Both reportedly have broad support across the state. And both have tried to identify themselves with Romney's program in the legislature.

Romney has praised both as "good men," but says he has no preference. He has said several times that he is willing to let the matter go to a floor vote—unless all concerned express a preference for having the matter settled before it gets to the floor of the convention Saturday.

Although the candidate is to be selected by the delegates, the wishes of the governor would normally be complied with, since they are running as a team.

Soviet Weapon Boast Denied

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has denied that he said the Soviet Union has a new weapon that can destroy mankind.

Khrushchev said Thursday night scientists had shown him a "terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do." He said it was not a nuclear bomb but gave no indication what the weapon was.

Members of a Japanese parliamentary delegation that met with Khrushchev Tuesday had reported he told them Soviet scientists had showed him a new, secret weapon that could destroy all life on earth.

Khrushchev told reporters at an Indian Embassy reception Thursday night: "I said scientists showed me a terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do. I didn't say anything about unlimited power. It cannot be a nuclear bomb because I saw it near Moscow, and a nuclear bomb would require testing and we are not testing now."

The Soviet leader said his original remarks were misinterpreted in translation to Japanese and then to other languages. He promised an official version would be issued "but it will take a little time."

Negro Teacher Heads NEA Unit

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP) — The National Education Association will install a Negro school teacher in one of its top spots in 1965 — even before many of its Southern units are integrated.

Elizabeth Koontz, who has taught for 24 years in the Negro schools of Salisbury, will be the first of her race to become president of the NEA's Department of Classroom Teachers.

She will take over as spokesman for 830,000 teachers, or 92 per cent of the NEA's membership, at a time when segregated state teacher groups are making final plans to merge. The NEA recently recommended the mergers be complete by 1966.

"It's going to take some time," Mrs. Koontz said. "These are voluntary organizations."

The state groups must be merged without annihilation of either the white or Negro organization, she said, in order to preserve the leadership and active membership in both.

Mrs. Koontz believes the mergers will help the transition to integration at the teacher level as well as the student level.

She said integration at the teacher level could become a reality today in many cities "if the boards of education took the lead."

Ishpeming Rally Will Hear Nixon

LANSING (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will speak at a Republican fund raising dinner Oct. 16 at Ishpeming, party headquarters announced Thursday.

Nixon will also make a television appearance and hold an airport rally during his trip to Marquette County in the Upper Peninsula.

Military Secrets Bared In President's Speeches

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, back from his first tour of the campaign season, has demonstrated anew that the man in office usually has a built-in advantage over the man who wants his job.

Twice in two days, Johnson dipped into the Pentagon's trove of military secrets for revelations which got great public attention.

Although Johnson at no point directly tied his disclosures to his campaign against Republican rival Barry Goldwater, many seemed to see Goldwater as his target.

In Sacramento, Calif., Thursday Johnson made two major military disclosures, both involving the development of new defense systems which military experts said could properly be lumped in the strategic category.

New Radar System
The President did not say so, but it seemed evident that his revelations were a blunt response to Goldwater's claim that the Democratic administration has failed to come up with any new strategic weapons.

These were the secrets unwrapped by the President:

1. The United States has a new radar that "will literally look around the curve of the earth, alerting us to aircraft and especially missiles, within seconds after they are launched." Previously, there had been a 15-minute warning gap.

2. "We now have developed and tested two systems with the ability to intercept and destroy armed satellites circling the earth in space. I can tell you today that these systems are in place, they are operationally ready, and they are on alert." The systems are land-based.

On Wednesday, in Seattle, Johnson heralded another military development designed to make certain that "neither a madman nor a malfunction could trigger nuclear war."

Johnson Wildest Spender Of All, Goldwater Says

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater staging his first campaign foray in President Johnson's home state, charged today the Democratic chief executive is "the wildest spender of them all."

"The man who promised to save us millions is putting us deeper in debt by billions," the Republican presidential nominee declared in a speech prepared for delivery in this east Texas town.

With stops here, in Springfield, Mo., Evansville, Ind., and Charleston, W.Va., the Arizona senator winds up a four-day swing that has taken him into eight Southern states.

Two False Claims
Beside him, before cheering Southern crowds, stood South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond, newly enlisted in the Republican cause.

Thurmond joined forces with Goldwater in Greenville, S.C., Thursday, and tossed warmup shots at the Democrats before crowds in Shreveport, La., and New Orleans.

Slapping Johnson in his home territory, Goldwater accused the President of "campaigning for the presidency on the basis of two absolutely false claims."

He said the President claims his administration is cutting federal spending and holding down the government payroll.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Goldwater said. "This administration is

Railroad Strike Called Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad shop craft unions today called a strike that could cripple the nation's transportation industry, to become effective at 6 a.m. local time Tuesday, Sept. 22.

The strike call was announced by Michael Fox, president of the Railway Employees Department of the AFL-CIO, Heads of the six craft unions involved were sitting at his side.

"Our duty to the employees as their collective bargaining representative leaves us no choice except to fix a strike date pursuant to the authority to strike previously voted by them," Fox said.

"We stand prepared to make a fair and equitable settlement but as of now the strike date can no longer be postponed."

Fox said exceptions among the nation's carriers to the general strike call will be the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Long Island Railroad and the Southern Railway system.

He said an agreement has been reached with the Pennsylvania and agreements are being worked on with the two other lines.

Federal mediators have been meeting this week with union and railroad officials in an effort to avert a strike.

The six unions are demanding a job-security agreement along lines recommended last month by a presidential emergency board.

The board recommended five-year pay guarantees for any shopmen thrown out of work or moved to lower-paying jobs because of technological improvements.

Improve Your Home Week

National Home Improvement Week will be observed in the Delta Area Sept. 20-27. Cooperating with the merchants and services who have special offerings to help homeowners improve their dwellings, the Escanaba Daily Press today publishes a special section devoted to home improvement.

Readers will find report on the elements that make Escanaba a fine city for residence, pictures of some of its new homes, articles on many phases of home improvement.

Johnson announced that several nuclear weapons now are equipped with "permissive action locks" which he described as electromechanical units "which must be opened by secret combination before action is possible."

At Sacramento, Johnson got a roaring welcome from some 40,000 persons gathered on the state Capitol grounds.

He told the crowd in his speech from the Capitol steps that this is a united nation in an election year.

Johnson said "our only purpose still is peace," but should another nation employ armed satellites in space, the United States will be prepared and ready to meet them.

He said he wanted his voice heard around the world.

The President visited the Aerojet-General Corp. plant near Sacramento and watched the successful static test firing of a Titan 3 missile engine.

Reach Accord Minutes Before Strike Deadline

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union agreed today on a new contract similar to that at Chrysler Corp. except for the addition of a Christmas bonus which UAW President Walter P. Reuther called "frosting on the cake."

The Christmas bonus will come from the Supplemental Unemployment Benefit Fund after the fund is fully paid up. Reuther said employees could get $25 to $100 each.

The UAW chief said the first bonus may be paid in 1965 and Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president and labor relations chief, said this was "mathematically possible."

Two More Holidays
Denise, after a bargaining session lasting some 23 hours, announced the new contract contains substantially improved pensions, earlier retirement, more paid relief time, an additional week of vacation and two more paid holidays.

Other improvements, Denise said, include larger insurance benefits, fully company - paid health insurance for both employees and retirees, and increased severance pay.

Announcement of the Ford settlement came just 55 minutes before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

At the same time the threat of a strike of some 7,000 white collar workers at Chrysler plants in seven states was averted less than an hour before a 10 a.m. (est) strike deadline.

Douglas Frazier, who headed the UAW negotiating team, said the Chrysler settlement paralleled last week's agreement covering hourly rated employees.

Reuther and Denise agreed that a Christmas bonus was about the only economic difference from an agreement-in-principle Sept. 9 at Chrysler.

Denise said, however, that in non-economic matters there were many differences.

Insurance Costs Paid
Reuther said the Ford contract made a number of improvements in working conditions but created "no Utopia."

Denise said "I accepted as a realistic settlement."

Working conditions were a major point with the UAW. Both the Ford and Chrysler agreements provide for 36 minutes of relief time daily instead of the previous 24 minutes for those whose work pace is controlled by machines or assembly lines.

The annual improvement factor, currently 2.5 per cent of the base wage rate or six cents an hour, whichever is greater, goes to 2.8 per cent, or seven cents, in September of 1966. An additional two cents an hour will be added to the wage rate the same month.

There will be no general wage increase in 1964 but employees will receive an increase of about one per cent in take-home pay next month when the company starts paying the full cost of group life and disability insurance. Heretofore, workers have shared the cost.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics figures the current average hourly wage in the automotive industry as a whole is $3.01.

Starting next November, Ford will pay the full cost of hospital-medical-surgical insurance for retired workers and their eligible dependents as it now is doing for active workers.

Early Retirement
The Christmas bonus will come from the so-called SUB fund. The company pays five cents per hour per worker into the fund to boost unemployment benefits when workers are laid off.

Heretofore, when the fund reached a predetermined point, the company no longer paid the nickel.

Under the new contract, when the fund reaches the cutoff point, the company will continue to pay the five cents an hour per employee. This will be diverted to Christmas bonus payments.

Denise estimated the fund now contains $64.5 million and is 85 per cent paid up.

Heretofore, the fund has guaranteed a laid off worker on top

Boy, 17, Admits Fatal Stabbing

DETROIT (AP)—A 17-year-old youth who police say has admitted stabbing two men—one of them fatally—stood mute Thursday in Recorder's Court on a first-degree murder charge.

Judge John P. Scallen set examination for the youth, Leonard Johnson, for Sept. 30.

Two juveniles, companions of Johnson, were also held. Juvenile Court authorities said they have not decided whether the pair should be tried with Johnson. All three are Negroes.

Police said Johnson has admitted killing Raymond Albrecht, 50, Tuesday night.

Detectives said all three youths also admitted stabbing another man, Norman McNamara, 47, who was treated and released at a Detroit hospital. Police said McNamara was stabbed in the back for "no apparent reason."

The youths also allegedly stole a bag of groceries from a man who was attacked with a brick.

All three victims are white.

Delta Red Cross Elects Officers

Officers and directors of the Delta County Chapter of the American Red Cross were elected and an activities report was presented at the Chapter's annual membership meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce building Thursday night.

Cecil B. Chase of 2215 Lake Shore Drive was elected Chapter chairman, succeeding Don Wertz, who continues on the board of directors. Other officers are:

Earland Myrall, second vice chairman; William Winkler, treasurer; and Mildred Polkey, secretary.

Cecil B. Chase

Aid Servicemen

Mrs. Betty Hamilton, the Chapter's executive director, presented a report of activities for the year ending June 30.

A total of 296 persons were served through Home Service, primary function of the Red Cross, she said. This included 225 servicemen who were assisted with a variety of services provided by the Red Cross; plus 30 veterans in a similar capacity; and 41 civilians.

Not counted as cases were 77 servicemen, 31 veterans and 197 civilians assisted with inquiries or limited service.

Under the heading of disaster service the Red Cross sent 41 messages requesting reports on relatives and servicemen stationed in Alaska during the earthquake; one Delta County family asked for and received assistance in a fire disaster; and there were other opportunities for service in local minor emergencies.

Many Services

The Chapter sponsors Delta County's membership in the Badger Blood Bank, through which 1,362 pints of blood were collected. St. Francis Hospital used 779 pints of blood, 231 pints were replaced at other hospitals used by Delta County residents, and other valuable blood derivatives were supplied to the hospitals.

In the water safety program, in which the Red Cross cooperates, 312 children received certificates in swimming at Escanaba and Gladstone beaches. The certificates are issued after swimmers pass Red Cross standard tests given by Red Cross trained instructors.

Eighty-four persons received instruction in first aid training; five Gray Ladies served 130 hours at the visits of the Badger Bloodmobile; and 452 volunteers served the Chapter during the year in various capacities. There was no Junior Red Cross program participation by the Chapter but it will be resumed in the current year, it was reported.

Historical Art Given Preview

Eight paintings depicting momentous events in Michigan's history were viewed by members of the Delta County Historical Society at the opening of the exhibit in the lobby of the State Office Building Thursday night.

The paintings are the work of Robert Thom for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and they are exhibited here under the sponsorship of the Delta County Historical Society.

The public is invited to visit the exhibit daily through Saturday, Sept. 26. There is no admission fee and the exhibit will be open to 9:30 p. m. daily.

John J. Mitchell, president of the Delta County Historical Society, at the meeting of the Society last evening presented a certificate of commendation to Dave Coon of Escanaba on behalf of the Michigan Historical Society. Coon, former museum director and Historical Society secretary, was praised for his work in preserving local and state history.

Progress is being made in the acquisition of items for the Marine Park to be developed at Municipal Dock in cooperation with the city of Escanaba, Mitchell reported.

Mrs. Charles Norton, director of the Delta County Historical Museum, reported on the operation of the Museum. The Museum closed after Labor Day weekend after a season that opened in mid-May. There were 2,400 registered visitors and an additional 1,000 or more failed to register, it was estimated.

Mitchell said that the Historical Society has invited the U. P. Historical Conference to meet in Escanaba next year.

Now's Time For Soil Analysis

The time to take care of soil problems is now and not in spring, as is customarily done.

Take soil samples now and have them tested to see what you have and what you must do to increase its productivity, advises J. L. Heirman, Delta Extension director. "If soil needs lime, a good time to put it on is in the fall," he says. By spring it will have neutralized soil acidity and help crops that require lime.

"By testing the soil in the fall one can plan his fertilizer program for the following spring. Placing orders before the spring rush for early delivery can save a few dollars."

Falls Centers Color Touring

NEWBERRY—This community and the nearby Tahquamenon Falls area centers a region rich in the autumn color tour.

Though the entire Upper Peninsula is noted for dramatic Autumn color, the nearness of the Tahquamenon and its rushing golden flood makes the Newberry country the ideal combination of scenic woods and water landscape.

To help color tourists find the most spectacular spots, the Newberry Chamber of Commerce helps the color tourist map area tours. It issues free tour maps on where to go, how to get there, and tips on camera use. All highways on recommended routes are hard surfaced.

At this season there are plenty of uncrowded and comfortable accommodations including good food and lodging.

To really appreciate Tahquamenon's fall colors, tourists are advised to see it from the river as well as from the highway side. Each bend of the wilderness river presents a dazzling new broadside of water-reflected color.

The north end of the tour whether by water or highway brings the traveler out to quaint and scenic villages on the shore of Whitefish Bay and Lake Superior.

Robert Sayles of Newberry reports that Autumn color touring will climax a most successful tourist year in the area. Newberry is reported experiencing "growing pains" with a new mill, inquiries from potential industries, generating a new air of confidence.

Group Returns From Canadian Fishing Trip

POWERS - SPALDING — A group of men from Powers-Spalding enjoyed an eight-day fishing trip at Longlack, Canada recently. They are Theodore Dault, Robert Smith, Walter Veraghen, Jack Dault, Earl Weissert, Bob Charland, John Hafeman, Charles Turini and Lloyd Fazer.

They caught over 100 pounds of walleye and pike, and they said that at some lakes they had to drop their boats down steep embankments into the lake 100 feet below. They had no guides with them.

There are cabins on some of the lakes and accommodations were good, they said. While fishing, they saw Indians in canoes, hunting moose, and in Longlack they experienced a brief but violent blizzard. The town is small with bare necessities for camping.

Besides bringing back fish, some of the party took time to pick blueberries which were plentiful in that area.

New Tourist Guide Planned

Printing of portions of the "Travelure," a new publication designed to attract tourists to Upper Michigan, will be started within the next few weeks, announces Roy Tresidder, president of Globe Printing Co., Ishpeming, which will publish it. It published a Marquette County tourist guide for six years and this year produced a similar guide for Alger County.

Similar in size and format to the old "Lure Book" published by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau until 1958, at least 30,000 copies of the "Travelure" will be printed, Tresidder said. Its theme is expressed by wording on the cover: "A Guide to Michigan's Upper Peninsula — Mid-America's Gigantic Vacationland."

A considerable portion of inside pages will be printed in full color, Tresidder said, and the other pages in two colors. The guide, to be divided into four generalized areas governed by the natural scenic attractions within the area, will not be subsidized by any government agency.

A corduroy road was a road through swamps or swales surfaced with small timber laid alongside each other. It was rough but horse and wagon didn't bog down.

80-Acre Potato Patch Changes Grzybowski Farm

Joe Grzybowski was like a man walking with one foot on the sidewalk and one in the street. He decided that he'd better get both feet on the sidewalk or both in the street for better walking.

Escanaba businessmen on the Chamber of Commerce's annual farm tour saw the result of his decision Thursday afternoon on a visit to his farm near Bark River.

Grzybowski, who up to two years ago was both a dairy farmer and a potato grower, sold his dairy herd and now devotes all his energies to potato growing. He was big enough in either branch of farming before; now he has 80 acres of Russet Sebago and Burbank potatoes and the dairy barn has been rebuilt as a potato processing and storage plant.

Joseph L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director for Michigan State University, arranged the tour for Co-Chairmen Dick Marenger and George Bathke of the Chamber's Agriculture Committee. The tour drew 24 and the businessmen seemed impressed by the demands of specialized farming today.

Grzybowski had equipment lined up for inspection and it included a two-row potato harvester, three self-unloading trucks, three tractors with plow, cultural practice and spray equipment, a vine killer. In the barn he had a potato washer and sacker, and several elevators to convey the spuds into big bins without bruising. Grzybowski has $75,000 invested in his facilities.

He has no irrigation equipment and his 1963 production wasn't over 100 bushels per acre and his 1964 outlook, with early potato harvest about to start when the weather favors, doesn't shape up well for high yield, he told his guests. He doesn't expect his Burbanks to bear as heavily as last year.

Grzybowski listed these expenditures of this year for his crop: fertilizer $3,690, spray materials $2,845, seed potatoes $4,500 and paper bags $5,000.

Most of his potatoes go to market in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Grzybowski is the former Amelia Lusardi of Rock and a great help in the farm enterprise. She's a famed potato recipe cook and a familiar figure at Upper Peninsula Potato Shows. Her 1963 special was baked potatoes filled with mashed carrots and potatoes.

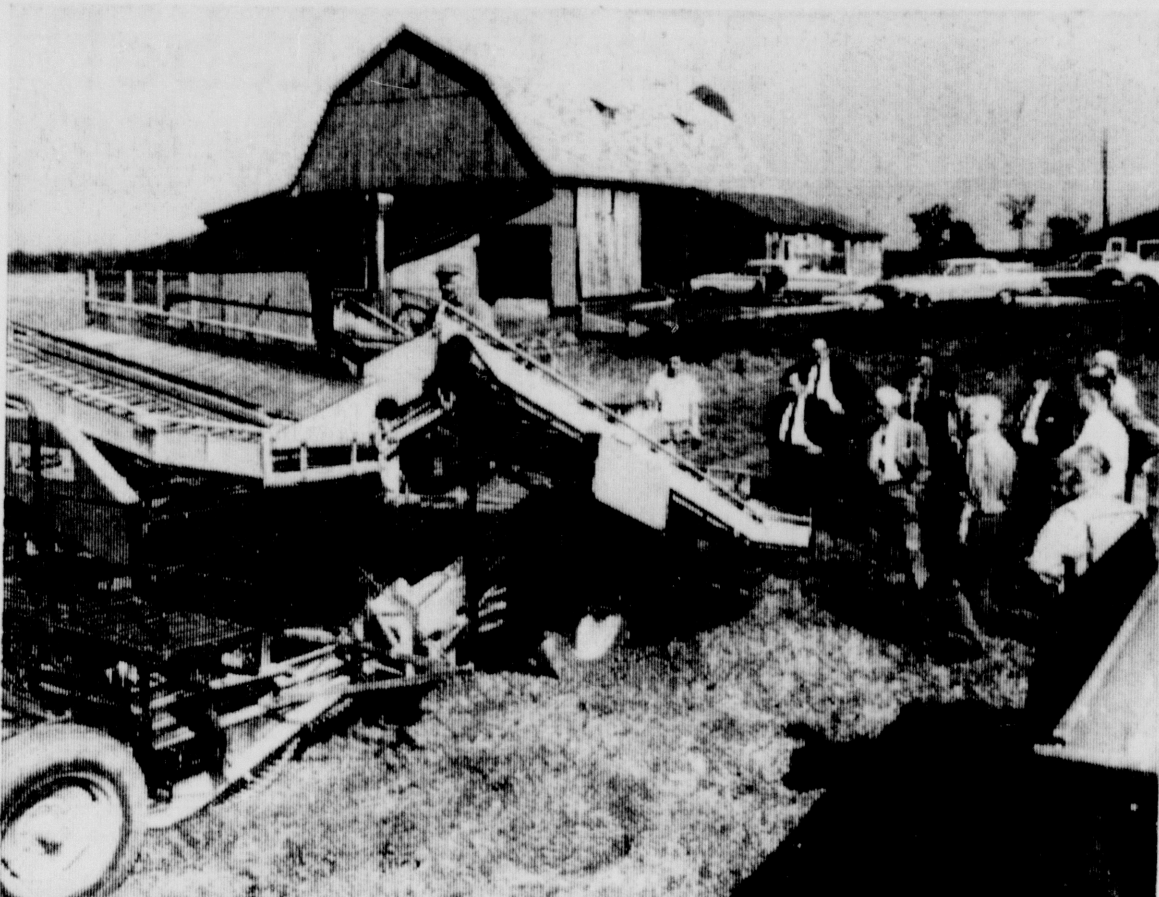

Their son, Joseph, is a private first class in the Army at Fort Hood, Texas, and their daughter, Patricia Ann, is Mrs. Kenneth Taylor of 1412 2nd Ave. S., Escanaba.

"She doesn't have to buy many potatoes," quipped Mrs. Grzybowski, "but last spring we ran out and I think she bought a 10-pound bag."

The farm was operated by Joseph Grzybowski until taken over by his son in 1946. The father and mother were born in Poland and he worked as a carpenter for the Chicago & North Western at Joliet, Ill., before starting farming at Bark River.

The farm has 120 acres and Grzybowski rents additional land. It had a herd of more than 60 dairy cattle when Grzybowski retired from dairying in 1963 and devoted all his efforts to potato production.

Shiplap is lumber made in standard sizes for flooring, ceiling partition, siding and moldings. The closed edges overlap in a tight joint.

THIS IS THE Joe Grzybowski farm near Bark River where Escanaba Chamber of Commerce tourists saw a modern potato production operation. Here the two-row potato harvester is pictured in foreground, under examination by some of the Escanaba businessmen on the tour Thursday, and in the background is the former dairy barn which Grzybowski has converted into a potato processing and packaging plant and storage warehouse to augment the capacity of his other big potato warehouse. Workshop Set For New Businessmen Prospective business owners in the Marquette area will have an opportunity to learn the advantages and disadvantages in starting their own business through a program announced today by Robert F. Phillips, regional director of the Small Business Administration.

Phillips said the program—first of its kind in the Upper Peninsula—calls for one-day workshops for men and women considering starting a business of their own or planning to buy an established one. The workshops will be conducted by SBA and will be available without charge.

The first workshop in the Upper Peninsula will be held in the Northland Hotel, Marquette, on Thursday, Sept. 24, from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Registrations are being accepted by the SBA branch office at 502 W. Kaye Ave., Marquette. Although the agency is limiting each workshop to 35 participants, those not included in the first 35 registering may be included in subsequent workshops.

UPCAP Offering Peninsula Aid In War On Poverty

Delegates to the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress meeting in Escanaba today heard a review of the organization's summer activity and a preview of plans for this fall from Dr. E. V. Bowden, executive director.

The Executive Committee sent a wire to Malcolm Lovell Jr., Lansing, coordinator of Michigan's participation in the Federal Economic Opportunities Act, offering UPCAP'S "cooperation and assistance in planning and executing projects involving the Upper Peninsula of Michigan." A similar wire was sent to Sargent Shriver, director of the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

During the summer UPCAP proceeded with plans for an Upper Peninsula Small Business Investment Corp. by working with bankers and others in the region. The Enstrom Corp. of Menominee was helped to obtain some favorable publicity in a national investors newsletter, and UPCAP worked to facilitate land exchange and legislative impediments to the creation of a Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore at Munising.

Proposals for bringing natural gas to the Peninsula have been examined by UPCAP and Bowden reported that "UPCAP'S activity in this was limited to factfinding and trying to see that all the relevant considerations were brought to light."

Earlier study of tolls on the Mackinac Bridge revealed that more careful analysis of truck tolls and alternatives were needed. UPCAP, the Michigan Public Service Commission, and others are helping to design such an analysis, which could lead to rate adjustments which may encourage greater commercial and industrial activity in the Peninsula, said Bowden.

Coordination was given the five major research and demonstration projects sponsored by UPCAP: commercial fishery, tourist and recreation expansion, forest inventory, ore beneficiation, and human resources. The operating procedures for UPAP and its staff offices in Escanaba was established during the summer quarter and specific assistance was given to 15 firms and individuals seeking technical help with private industry development or expansion programs.

Bowden proposed 12 activities for the attention of UPCAP in the fall quarter. Among them were proposals to acquire a planner on the staff, strengthen the regional and local industrial development groups, increase and improve communications and public relations programs of UPCAP, and complete the establishment of the Small Business Investment Corp. for the region.

BLUE SHIELD ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

only one increase for doctors in 25 years...

? How many times have participating Blue Shield doctors been granted fee increases?

Just once in the 25 years that Blue Shield has been in existence. The increase was for less than 15% and was granted in 1958. (In that same 25 years, incidentally, the cost of living has gone up more than 120%.)

? How much is involved in adding a newborn baby to my Blue Shield coverage?

You need simply report the birth within 30 days, if you have a family contract. From the moment of birth your new child is automatically covered. If the child is your first born you must simply change your coverage to a family contract.

? What is the maximum age at which I can get Blue Shield coverage?

There is no maximum age. There is no minimum age. The Blue Shield philosophy is to offer the proper health care protection to all Michigan citizens regardless of age, condition of health, or income.

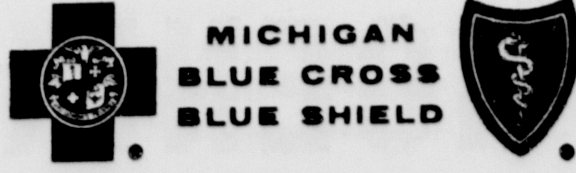

? Can I be treated for the same illness more than once?

Yes, you can be. Necessary services are never excluded just because you were treated for the same condition previously.

? Isn't a lot of the money I pay Blue Shield used to pay the cost of running the company?

No. Actually less than 7¢ out of every dollar is used to operate the plan. The rest is returned to subscribers in the form of benefits when they are needed. This is one of the lowest administrative costs of any health care protection plan anywhere in the United States.

Do you have a question about your Blue Shield coverage? Just write Dept. 54, Michigan Medical Service, 441 E. Jefferson, Detroit, Michigan 48226. We will answer as many of your questions as possible in future columns.

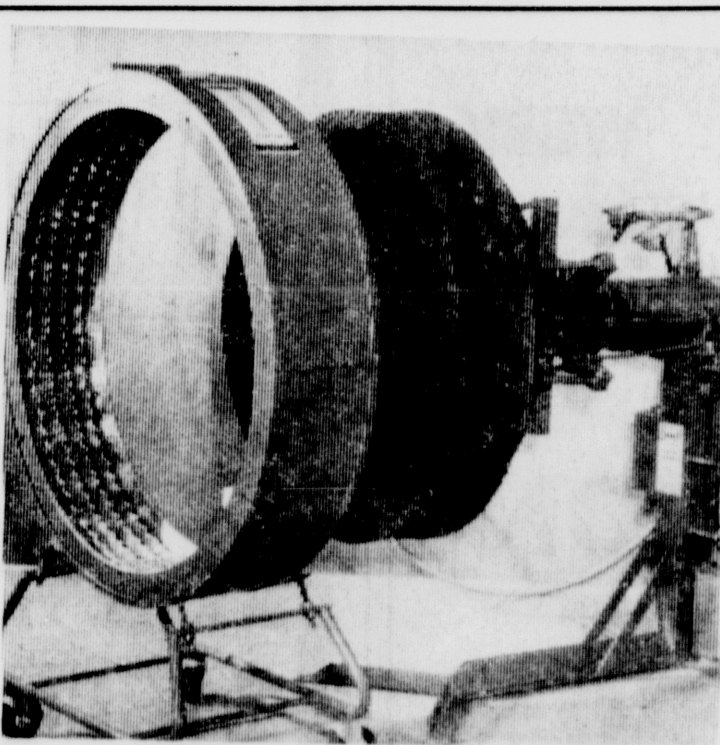

Now! Join Blue Cross-Blue Shield without leaving a group if you are under 65. Get your application from your doctor, hospital or nearest Blue Cross-Blue Shield office.

Sick City Label Avoided By Esky

Escanaba has avoided the "sick city" label so far, but it is one that can be slapped upon any community at any time it ceases to take an interest in its self-regeneration and allows neighborhoods to deteriorate. Blight in a community is like cancer in tissue; it spreads wildly, affecting everything it touches.

Henry Ford once said "We shall solve the city problem by leaving the city." He provided the means of escaping the city, but also of returning to it. A California citizen group, says "Sick Cities" by Milton Gordon, describes the urbanism created by the automobile as neither suburb nor city. It's word for it is "slurb."

Population Problem

If present population trends continue, the day will come when there will be "standing room only" in America. Present trends in 800 years would mean an average of only one square foot of space for each person in the nation.

Since longevity hasn't brought old age to a span of 800 years yet the prospect isn't imminent, but its forerunners are already evident.

Urbanization, unfortunately, doesn't solve its problems by improvements as must be by attempts to escape. Urban sprawl has been described by the Saturday Evening Post as "perhaps our cruelest misuse of land since our soil mining days. It is not the growth of cities; instead the cities are disintegrating and spreading the pieces over miles and miles of countryside."

Quality of area is the prime consideration. With more population cities must spread or go up in the air. They do both. The great need of land for modern highways has been described, but actually we are using much less land in America for transportation today than we did in the horse age, because the livestock feed needs of that transportation age called for use of more hay, grain and pastureland than do our modern highways of the automobile age.

Good Leadership

Escanaba has been the beneficiary of good community leadership. The municipality acquired blighted properties which it cleared to make way for the government plaza at the end of Ludington St., one of the community's top show places and finest assets in a former slum.

The creation of Ludington Park has affected the whole character of Escanaba, giving the city a most attractive face on its Little Bay de Noc side.

Local governments have housed their activities adequately if not sumptuously. The Escanaba City Council, the Delta County Board of Supervisors and the Escanaba Planning Commission have acted with foresight in municipal planning.

The medical center development at St. Francis Hospital has progressed impressively, seems to need only more parking areas soon, unless the provision of professional offices in the area is to be undertaken.

The clearance of old buildings and upgraded several neighborhoods and made lots available for new dwellings in the central city.

City Trends South

The trend of the city has been south and west following natural lines because of its water-girt position. There has been less tendency than in some other communities to leapfrog areas and create strip towns, either on U.S. 2-41 or on M-35. This has helped preserve the community's good character.

The upgrading of dwellings has been slow but constant. The retailing area has not made investments in modernization comparable with those of some competing cities, but it has managed to keep itself intact and expand parking facilities somewhat, although a strong program in this area is lacking.

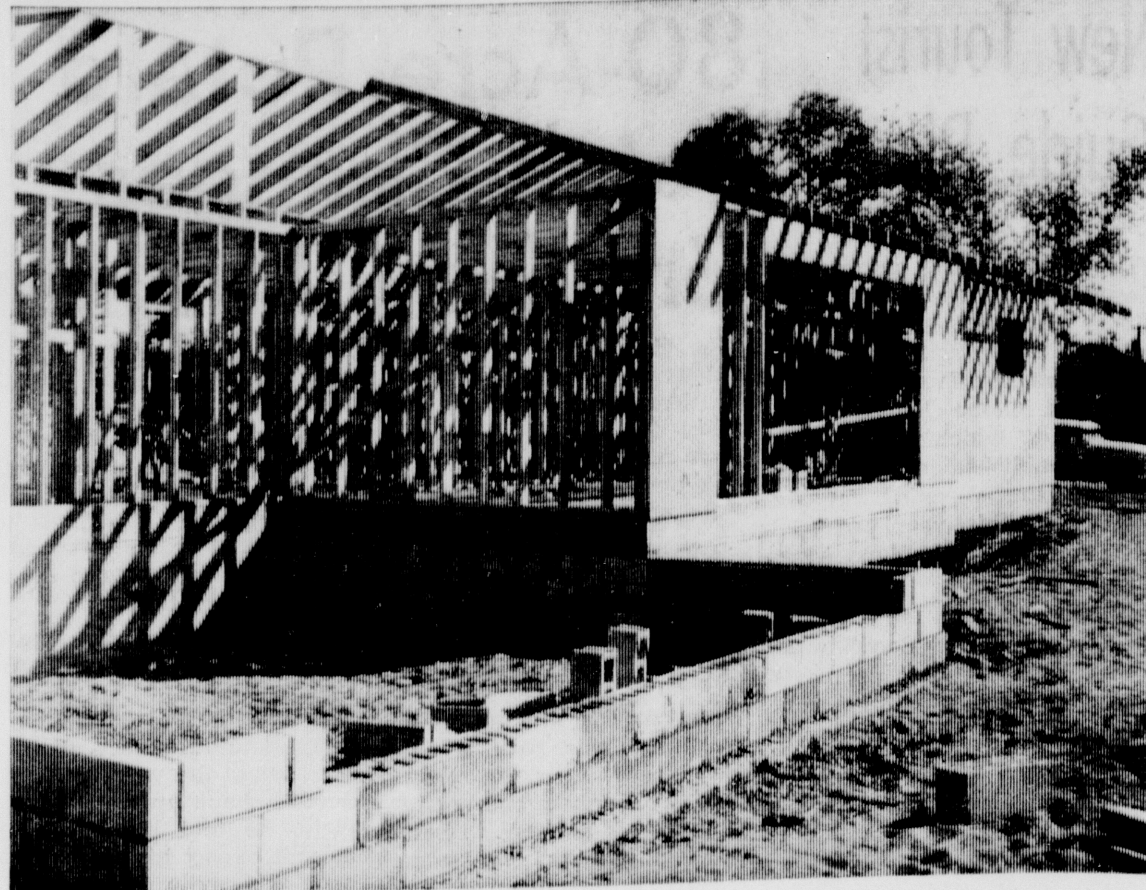

Utility-wise the city has made great strides. It has built a modern electric generating plant to assure ample electric power, whose lack was an earlier need, and it is now being wooed by two gas pipe line companies which want to bring natural gas as a new fuel for the area.

The suburban area has had more population growth than the city itself, as revealed by the 1960 census, although the city provided the economic means for the expansion. The trend is a repetition in little of the same thing that has been happening in the big cities. It creates local problems of support of government services, as it tends to charge the cities with the cost of area services unless organization for their support is on an area basis.

"Sick Cities" declares "Cities are going to have to do more than rescue their downtowns if the yare to more fully realize the potential pleasures and reduce the penalties of urban living. The mere dispersal of factories has not proved enough of a lodestone to pull people closer to their places of employment. Too many other factors figure in the locating decision for that to be the case."

"The quality of schools, the convenience of attractive shopping facilities, and the access to recreational areas are some of the more important elements that enter into that decision. In other words, total communities of manageable size must be dispersed if people are to live closer to their jobs."

"Almost no effort to remake the urban landscape, socially or otherwise, can readily succeed if it is shattered into too many uncoordinated governmental units. Outmoded state systems must be updated. State governments which fail to take measures in behalf of their cities will succeed only in forcing their cities to look increasingly to Washington for relief from their many ills."

House Has Over Ton Of Steel

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — They've finally built a house for the guy who hates maintenance work.

A gleaming structure of pure white concrete and stainless steel, it rests on a hill south of here overlooking the sea.

The concrete, used both for walls and roof, will never need paint, the makers say. The stainless steel, used for exterior trim, interior hardware and for columns that support the roof, likewise requires almost no maintenance.

The bath — walls, floors and ceilings — are one-piece plastic, cleaned easily with a cloth.

Kitchen surfaces are stainless steel or gloss-finished wood for easy care.

Called "Olympia Pacifica — The House of Excellence," it is the project of a group of materials producers who wanted to show how long range ownership costs could be minimized in a house that was both permanent and flexible.

The permanence arises from solid construction and long-lasting ing materials. The flexibility arises from the construction: with the roof supported by columns, the nonload bearing walls can be located without regard to roof support.

Bedrooms, for instance, can be added or removed . . . any living areas changed.

The house has 3,500 square feet and is luxury construction throughout. Costs are not disclosed but, because much of the work was of a pioneering nature, the tab must be well over $100,000.

There is a large kitchen, oversize living room, big master bedroom and four smaller bedrooms, a large children's playroom, two baths, huge swimming pool and three-car garage.

The concrete walls are in the form of stacked pure white blocks laid in pure white mortar. The 150-ton roof is white lightweight aggregate and silica sand.

The conventional house uses about 15 pounds of stainless steel. This one uses more than a ton — in framing windows and sliding glass doors, roof fascia, deck and pool railings, counter tops, sinks and lavatories, locks, hardware, even table settings and cookware.

The location is Laguna Niguel, 55 miles south of Los Angeles, 7,000 acres that bills itself as the nation's largest planned community.

So what does such a house save over the years, besides elbow grease?

A minimum of $18,000 in maintenance costs in just the first 30 years of its life, says architect-designer John Galbraith of Pasadena.

Electronics Lick Servant Problem

Modern housewives have found a way to lick the servant problem.

They now may have a staff of cook, house-cleaner, baby-sitter, butler and secretary — all worked by pushbuttons.

The modern stove does the cooking — turns on at a prearranged signal, turns itself off when the food is done, while the lady of the house is out playing bidge.

New automatic dishwashers and vacuum cleaners need only slight human direction, and new TV and intercom gadgets enable Mom to watch the nursery at a distance.

Newest in the electronic household staff are the electronic butler and secretary.

The butler answers the doorbell by remote control, inquires the caller's business and gives the answer. It's a new gadget by which the doorbell is hooked up to the telephones in the house, so that if Mom happens to be in the tub when the bell rings she can simply pick up a phone and answer it. If it's a salesman, a microphone OUTSIDE the door can say — "We don't need any today."

If she goes shopping for the day, the lady of the house may leave her electronic secretary in charge, to answer the telephone, give and take messages, all by means of a recording device. Mom needn't even come back home to get her messages. All she has to do is call her number from any phone, hold a small oscillator near the mouthpiece, and find out what time Dad will be home from work or when she's supposed to pick up the children.

Automation can even save her the trouble of dialing numbers any more. There is a new index which may be attached to the phone, listing as many as 800 names and numbers. When she wants to talk to a friend, either in the neighborhood or 1,000 miles away, all she has to do is turn the index to the right name, push a button and talk.

What next?
"Well," says Donald C. Power, whose company is responsible for many electronic marvels "the day is not far off when the United States will be linked by a nationwide electronic telephone system, directed by electronic brains."

Now maybe somebody will invent an electronic parent to keep the children in line.

Wood provided fuel for fires that gave early men warmth and heat to cook his food. Today we depend on lumber for hundreds of products used in our daily lives.

Painting Helps To Sell House

AP Newsfeatures

QUESTION: We are getting ready to sell our house, which is 12 years old. We have never sold a house before and there is some difference of opinion in our family as to whether it will pay us to spend any money fixing up certain things or whether we should just sell it "as is." What is your advice?

ANSWER: There can't be any set answer on this, since a lot depends on what are the "certain things" you are thinking of fixing. If the house needs a paint job, you will sell it much faster if you have the painting done before you put the house on the market.

Another advantage is that, in figuring the profit on the house for income tax purposes, you are permitted to deduct the cost of the paint job if it was done specifically for the purpose of making the house more saleable, in selling a house, it is wise to take care of the so-called little things. While these may seem relatively unimportant from the standpoint of expense to the new owner, they play an important part in making a sale.

A leaky faucet, for instance, may make it appear that you don't make necessary small repairs and that, therefore, there probably are a lot of larger repairs which haven't been made. A backyard in disorder, a door handle that doesn't turn, a crack in a plaster wall — these are just some of the little things you should attend to before people begin looking at your house with a critical eye, which is exactly the way prospective purchasers view it.

Electric Heat Gives House More Space

With construction and lot costs on the rise, many families are looking for ways to gain added living space without actually increasing the size of the house.

One way to gain extra usable space in a house is to use electric heat. Many home owners feel this is an important bonus feature of the most modern heating system available.

An electric heating system based on ceiling coils, wall panels or baseboard units eliminates the need for a bulky, space-stealing fuel tank or chimney. This space is freed for other uses, such as more spacious playrooms, workshops, or more storage area for household goods.

To make sure heating costs are kept as low as possible, most families who install electric heat rely on insulation in excess of FHA minimum requirements. Mineral wool, the widely used home insulating material, can be installed easily in new homes during construction. It can also be applied to existing homes by the use of special equipment that blows it into the spaces between wall studs and floor joists.

Several Major Building Jobs Listed In City

New construction valued in excess of a half-million dollars has been completed or is still in progress in Escanaba to Sept. 1, and other projects are anticipated for a start before the year's end.

This is work for which application was made to and approved by the City of Escanaba and is a part of the records in the office of City Assessor Charles Schmidt.

In addition to this list of projects is the industrial development by the Chicago & North Western Railway in Escanaba. The dock was given steel sheet piling treatment and the channels were dredged for a total contract expenditure of about one and one-half million dollars.

Twenty-Two Homes
Besides the work locally, many Escanaba contractors have been busy with residential, commercial and industrial building projects in the area outside the city.

The records at the City Hall show that to Sept. 1 there have been applications approved for the construction of 22 homes, non-residential projects totaling 31, and repairs and alterations 13.

New home construction ranges from modestly-sized and priced dwellings to several larger residences. Residential growth continues toward the southwest section of the city primarily, although several new homes are going up in other areas as well.

On the commercial and industrial side of the building picture the advances are even more pronounced, with a number of projects completed so far this year.

Birds Eye Veneer Co. made major improvements and alterations to its plant, modernizing considerable modernization and the construction of a large veneer display room.

Theisen Clemens Oil Co. is constructing a gas station at Ludington and 14th Sts.; the T. D. Vintette Co. has completed a large warehouse addition; and a car wash has been established at 2509 1st Ave. N. Completion of Immanuel Lutheran Church on S. 23rd St. was the community's major project under the classification of religious structures; while at St. Joseph's a new boiler room heating plant was constructed.

For all of 1963 the records show that Escanaba built 37 homes, had 33 non-residential building projects, and 22 repairs and alterations. Total valuation for the building projects last year was $967,000.

The City of Escanaba is completing a summer public works season that included the construction of several blocks of street paving, the paving of alleys, and the extension of sewer and water utilities. The correction of storm drainage problems to provide better run-off of storm water from city streets is also part of the 1964 capital improvement program.

Under private contract the city is extending sanitary sewer service to an area on the west side of the city, where growth in schools, churches and residences is most rapid.

This project extends the trunkline sewer from 18th Ave. S. northerly along the west side of 23rd St. to one-half block north of Ludington St.

Electric Power No. 1 Servant

Electricity is modern man's No. 1 servant. It lights, heats, cools and powers. No task is too large nor any too small. It works silently and without effort with the slightest push of a button or change in heat or light rays as with thermostats and photo electric cells.

All these things it will do safely if proper wiring is provided, said Peter Breclaw, Escanaba electric inspector. In general, the average home today should have at least:

1 — A 100-ampere service (200 amp. for electrically heated homes); 2 — General lighting: one circuit for each 500 sq. ft. of floor space or fraction thereof; 3 — Kitchen and dining area: Two 20-amp circuits for the refrigerator and portable appliances, such as toaster, mixer, grill, etc.; 4 — A separate circuit for each heavy appliance, such as range, dryer, automatic washer, furnace, etc.

Not only is proper wiring safer, but appliances work more efficiently and economically. Proper voltage prevents frequent motor failures due to overheating and a more uniform lighting.

Electric Rates

How expensive is it to operate some of the appliances normally used in the home? Based on the City of Escanaba's Electric Rates, the cost of electricity for each hour of use is as follows:

Dryer (4500 watts) — $.09;
Iron (1000 watts) .02; Fry-pan (1150) .023; Washer (700) .014;
Toaster (1000) .02.

Any user may figure the cost of operating any appliance very easily. First find the number of watts an appliance consumes. This is listed somewhere on the unit. Second, determine how many hours the appliance is used per week or month, whichever time you wish to base the cost on. Third, determine the rate that the utility company charges per kilowatt hour.

In Escanaba, after 75 kilowatt hours have been used (normally for lighting) the rate is 2c per kilowatt hour.

Water Heating
An electric water heater is one of the most useful major appliances in the home. It works day and night silently and efficiently. If the user runs out of hot water, it is not the heater's fault. Either the tank or the heating elements are too small.

The home-owner should consider carefully or consult the City of Escanaba Electric Department as to what size of water heater will adequately serve his needs. Water heaters are available with rapid-recovery elements (4500 watts) for the same price as the slow heating type. These are almost a must with automatic washers or where a great deal of hot water is used.

Most slow heating elements may be replaced with larger units and this will increase the recovery rate considerably. Any electrical contractor can do this very easily. There is no need for lack of hot water with an electric water heater.

The Masters golf tournament was won by Arnold Palmer in 1958, 1960 and 1962.

UL Signifies Fire Safety

The UL label on a product is a sign of safety. But in addition, it offers assurance of adequate performance.

For example, those asphalt shingles that are approved for wind-resistance by Underwriters' Laboratories have met strict standards for materials and have passed severe wind-tunnel tests.

Wind-resistant asphalt shingles that are self-sealing have become increasingly popular in recent years. This type has a special adhesive which is applied at the factory.

These shingles are first applied in the usual way. Then the sun activates the adhesive, bonding each course to the one below.

NO MUSS, NO FUSS

One advantage of re-roofing with asphalt shingles is that in most cases they can be applied directly over the old material. This eliminates the expense and mess of ripping off the old roof.

Thin Oyster Shells Passed For Glass

Many materials have been used as a substitute for window glass in the past. One of the oddest of these was oyster shells.

Back in the 1800's the thin, nearly flat shells of a variety of oysters found in Ceylon were widely used in China and other parts of the world. Although not quite transparent enough to see through, a number of these circular shells, placed in a window frame would permit light to enter a house. At one time, the window oyster was one of Ceylon's most important exports.

Cracked Walls, Ceilings Needn't Be Replastered... New Paint Product Covers Cracks In One Coat

Improvements in paint products are usually confined to the areas of easier application or better washability or quicker drying time. These are, of course, important and desirable, but do not essentially change the character of the product... they simply make it easier and more convenient to use. But every so often paint chemists make a major breakthrough, and a truly startling improvement is the result. Such is the case with a new product called Paint-O-Plast, introduced by the Enterprise Paint Co. of Chicago and locally franchised with Hawes Paint & Floor Covering of Escanaba.

This is a paint which is actually more than a paint... a paint which takes on the character of plaster, performing feats that no paint has ever been able to do... until now. One coat completely fills and hides small cracks, nail holes, seams, taped joints, patched areas—actually repairs cracked walls and ceilings without the expense and work of replastering. This oil base latex reinforced texture paint makes it possible for the homeowner to paint, plaster, color and texture problem walls—all in one coat, all with the stroke of a brush.

Paint-O-Plast dries to a rockhard finish claimed to be 4 times harder than plaster, making it the most durable paint that can be applied to walls and ceilings. It is available at Hawes Paint & Floor Covering in a wide selection of attractive interior colors, all of which are completely washable and scrubable. The paint can be textured during application to create interesting design patterns and stipple effects.

This economical answer to problem walls proves itself ideal over plaster, wallboard, wallpaper, wood, brick... even cement. Its toughness and washability make it especially suitable for children's rooms and rumpus room. Ask your local dealer for details... Hawes Paint & Floor Covering. Adv.

On winter days, a tank of heating oil is very reassuring. It's right on your property—ready to warm your house at the flick of a switch. No need to worry about a sudden fuel supply breakdown miles away.

Shell home heating experts reveal 9 tips to help you lower your oil heat bills, reduce service calls and enjoy top heating performance all winter long.

A recent Shell survey shows that the average oil-heated home is wasting one quarter of its warmth. If your oil heat bills are running high, here are 9 proved ways to save heat and money this winter — presented by your Shell Heating Oil supplier, DeGRAND OIL CO.

The average home oil heating system is operating at less than 75 percent combustion efficiency.

This startling—and costly—fact was revealed in a recent home survey conducted by Shell scientists.

Shell, and your Shell Heating Oil dealer, recommend these 9 simple—but often overlooked—ways to get maximum heating comfort. And to help reduce your oil heat bills, too.

1. Have heating oil delivered automatically. Using the degree-day method we can tell how much oil you have used, how much you have left—and when to deliver more. Automatically. You never have to call us.

2. Get a printed record of fuel delivery. Deliveries of Shell Heating Oil are measured by meter, not with a stick. Exact gallonage is stamped right on your receipt.

3. Make heating bills fit your budget. Our budget plan lets you divide heating oil bills into easy-to-handle monthly installments throughout the year.

4. Keep your burner clean. Today's Shell Heating Oil contains special additive FOA-5X®, a development of Shell Research. FOA-5X helps keep filters and burners clean. In a well adjusted, clean burner, today's Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X additive can reduce your fuel consumption.

5. Guard against tank rust. We offer all our heating oil customers a special anti-rust treatment for storage tanks, at no extra cost.

6. Turn down the thermostat at night. Do the same when you go away on a trip, even for just a day or two. It's surprising how often people forget to do this—and how much it can save in heating oil.

7. Consider re-locating your thermostat. A thermostat should be on an inside wall, well away from the stairs, out of areas that are subject to drafts and air currents.

If you have a question whether your thermostat is well located or not, we'll gladly check it for you free.

8. Add insulation. Experts estimate that good insulation can pay for itself in 2 to 5 years by what it saves you in fuel bills.

9. Guard against "heat leaks". Attic ventilators and fireplace dampers should be closed when not in use. And shut off radiators and registers in unused rooms.

SMALLER FUEL BILLS

Follow these tips, switch to Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X, and you can look forward to trouble-free heating this winter. You may also find your fuel bills much lower. We can deliver your first tankful of Shell Heating Oil whenever you wish. Call us today.

Louver Doors Add To Space

One of the favorite clichés of mystery writers of yesterday was the secret door that slid open at the touch of a hidden button.

There's no mystery, however, about sliding wood louver doors that grace today's modern homes, although they do have some things in common with the mystery-book type. They are quiet, open easily and slide out of sight into the wall.

The latter is probably their most popular feature, because they use the waste space between walls, making room arrangement much easier.

A favorite spot for wood lou-

This wood louver door slides into waste space between walls, makes room arrangement easier.

ver doors is between the dining room and kitchen. In many modern homes the dining room tends to be on the skimpier side, so families are happy to have as much usable wall space there as possible.

Sliding louver doors are ideal for clothes closets for two reasons. They help keep clothes fresh by permitting air to circulate freely, and they give maximum use of the room's space. In the bedroom, for example, furniture can be placed right up to the door on both sides, since no allowance is needed for door swing.

Louver doors made of ponderosa pine are available in many sizes and a variety of styles. They can be painted, stained or waxed to harmonize with any room decor.

Care Of Tools Important To Good Gardening

Just as you can tell a carpenter by the kind of tools he uses, so you can tell a good gardener by the tools in his garage, cellar, or wherever he keeps them. A good selection of sensible, businesslike tools marks the real gardener.

Of course, the new home owner or gardener cannot always go out and buy everything in sight the first year—he may have too many other things to spend money on, too. But, with the right selection, he can take care of his needs reasonably well the first year and can add the rest to make his gardening still easier and more fun the next year.

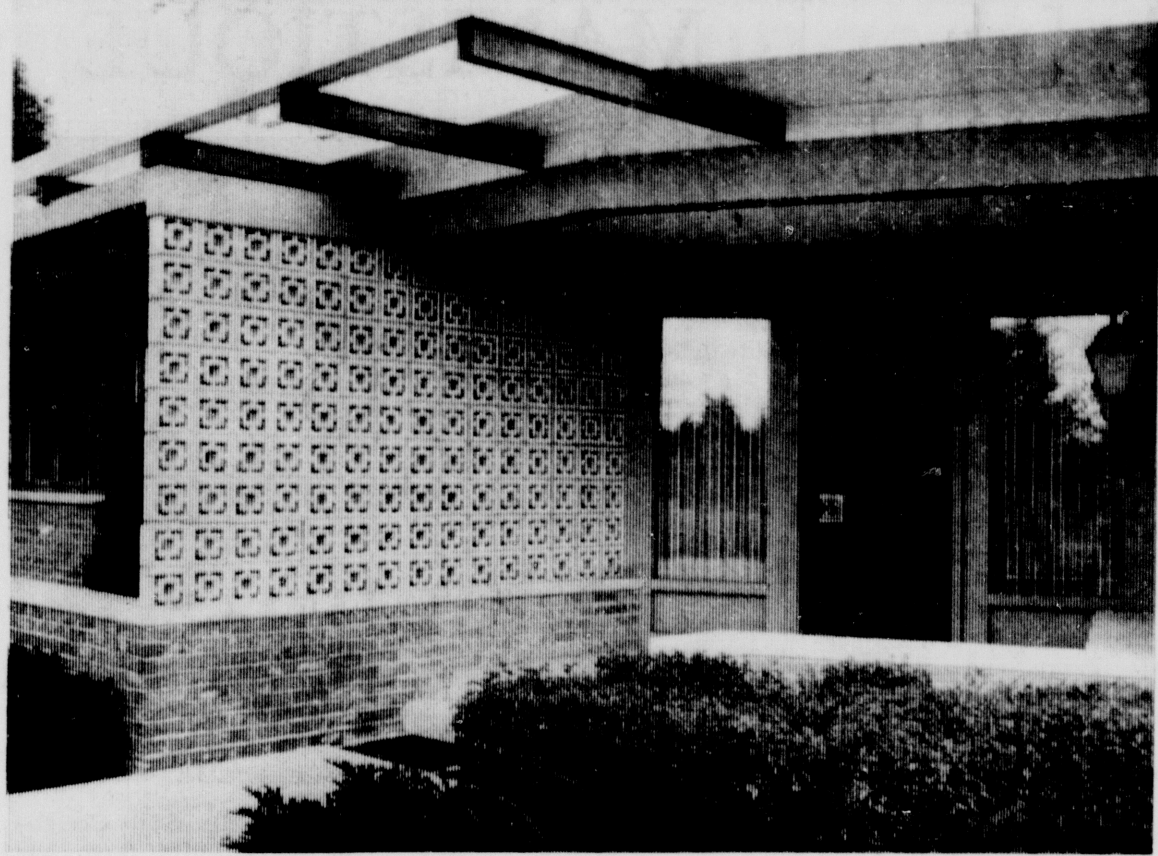

First of all, you should have a shovel. For all-around use the long-handled, "round-pointed" type is best. It is good for just about everything in the digging line—even prying out rocks or digging post holes. Then, you need rakes, also a hoe, watering can and a mower.

Later on you should add a spading fork, a narrow or triangular hoe, a turf edger, some form of pick, a hand cultivator, pruning shears, perhaps rotary lawn edger, a sickle or golf-club type weed cutter, and a sturdy wheel barrow.

In all cases, too, remember that the best tools are not the heaviest, but the best steel. Also, keep in mind that the lady of the house may like her own lady's size or light-weight tool set. And, if you're counting on some help from the younger generation, remember, too, that the Junior size tools fit them best.

The upkeep of hardwood floors is now more economical than ever. This is due to the development of modern floor cleaning equipment and the use of attractive and effective floor finishing products.

The penetrating seal type of finish is highly recommended for hardwood floors. There are many good sealer products on the market today. The quality products will not darken maple and birch flooring.

THE ENTRANCEWAY to this attractive home is enhanced by the imaginative use of brick and masonry wall. Wide windows flank the doorway protected by the overhang and screened by the pierced masonry block wall. The home is that of the Dr. Francis Andersons, 1921 Lake Shore Drive. (Daily Press Photo)

Electric Home Heating Grows

The Escanaba Electric Department continues to receive a large number of inquiries about the use of electric heat, and most people are holding off on making their decision until the natural gas question is solved.

"We expect and hope that gas will be cheaper than fuel oil, while we know that electric heat will continue to cost more than fuel oil. Electrical contractors now guarantee that the annual electric heating bill will not exceed their estimate," said William Van Effen, electric utility superintendent.

"The actual difference in annual costs for the average 1500 square foot new home is usually less than $100. The savings on the installation cost of electric heating equipment over the cost of furnaces, chimneys, oil tanks, piping, etc., is anywhere from $500 to $1,500 per installation," he added.

Cleanliness is the most important feature of electric heat. Spring house-cleaning is hardly necessary, because there is no combustion within the house. Combustion requires air—four complete changes in a house per hour. This air is the source of dirt which collects on walls, ceilings, etc. Electric heat has no combustion, requires no air, eliminates dryness and static electricity

Insulating Glass Is Widely Used

Several window trends showed up in a survey reported recently by a national building trade magazine.

These include increased use of insulating glass in both windows and storm doors; wider popularity of double-hung and sliding windows, and steadily increasing use of wood windows, most of which are made of pine. The survey also noted a continuing increase in the number of windows per house, although there is a significant shift away from fixed picture windows.

When picture windows are used, however, they are more apt to be double-glazed.

The prospective builder should be reminded that his floors will get at least 90 percent more wear than any other part of his home. Accordingly, it is good judgement to select the longest wearing flooring product available. A hardwood floor will prove an excellent choice. For the northern hardwoods, maple, birch and beech floorings are the most popular, in that order.

Wood Shutters Add Decoration

In the past, wood shutters on windows were functional. Nowadays they're not used so much to protect today's tightly built houses from winter's worst as they are to make them look their best.

To be architecturally correct, exterior shutters should be used with most traditional home designs to add authenticity. And, although shutters are optional with contemporary architecture, many families use them to add interest to severe looking exterior walls.

The wide variety of factory-made pine shutters, either louvered or paneled, sold today provides an inexpensive way to give a plain house individuality and style.

Wood shutters, available from building materials dealers, come from the factory chemically treated for longer life, sanded and ready for final finishing in the color that fits best with the exterior color scheme.

In most cases, they are painted in the accent color that's used on small but important areas such as doors and trim.

When an extension is added to a house that already has shutters, it's a good idea to add new shutters, painted to match the existing ones, at windows in the addition. This is an effective way of integrating old and new elements of the house.

Full-length shutters used at the sides of a garage door will dress it up and make the garage look more like part of the house.

SOUND INVESTMENT

Insulating a house to recommended standards is one of the soundest investments a family can make. A protective blanket of mineral wool installed in the ceilings, walls and floors of a house usually brings a sharp drop in heating costs.

Hire Early For Paint Job

AP Newsfeatures
If you want paperhangers and painters to include you in their plans this fall, better tell them. And an early call to the slipcover or upholsterer will avoid hysteresis at the last minute, also.

Professional help isn't always easy to find if you can't do these jobs yourself. But don't give up easily.

Try local handymen first. A good way to locate help is by the simple expedient of inquiring at stores in your neighborhood. Paint and wallpaper dealers know paperhangers and painters who buy from them. Stores that sell sewing supplies often have lists of women who make their living sewing and upholstering.

The yellow pages of the phone book is another good place to look. And if you want reassurance, many workmen belong to a Painting and Decorating Contractors Association, a national organization pledged to doing reliable and responsible work. Or check in your neighborhood to see if the person you are about to hire has done work for anyone.

Costs of painting, papering and sewing varies from community to community, but you can ask for an estimate of the job. An estimate should determine the rollage that will be required, so there is no question of having to order more paper, for instance. Besides the increased cost and time lost, paper can vary in color from lot to lot, and you may not be able to match it. (This is a point also to keep in mind in respect to fabric.)

The paperhanger's quotation of job costs might be on the basis of so much per roll, so much per room or at so much per hour, explains the Wall-paper Council. The hourly cost often is used as an estimate where the job might be unusual or intricate. The cost, per roll of 36 square feet, can vary from $1 to $6 per roll, depending on the type of paper used and the amount needed for the job, says the council. A single bathroom would be more costly per roll, they advise, than two or three bedrooms done at one time, because of time consumed traveling and setting up for a smaller number of rolls hung.

It is well to find out whether your paperhanger will prepare walls for papering, or if he expects you or someone else to do it. He should know, too, whether he is expected to hang new paper over old or on paint or on new walls. Some walls such as gypsum board should be prime sealed, says the council.

The average family is using four times as much electricity today as 25 years ago; and will probably double its use in the next 10 years. Financial Firm Started In '17

The full-service banking facilities offered by the State Savings Bank at Manistique make it virtually a financial "department store."

Operating at 101 S. Cedar St., since its founding by a group of 28 in 1917, the bank provides savings account, loan, checking account, foreign remittance, travelers check, safety deposit box, bank-by-mail, bank money order and other services.

Loans include mortgage, collateral, life insurance and commercial type. Home modernization is encouraged by the bank and loans are provided for this.

Automobile financing is a big feature of the bank's services and it is now preparing for the upturn in this which will come when new cars will be shown.

The bank began with capital of $25,000 and surplus of $5,000 and has grown to $200,000 capital and $185,000 surplus.

The bank remodeled its present quarters when the building was purchased in 1940 and again in 1948, when the interior was remodeled to provide quarters for the Savings Assurance Agency. In 1959, a new front was installed on the building.

Serving on the bank's board of directors are H. K. Bundy, August Carlson, a member of the founding stockholder group, E. G. Carlstrom, A. W. Heitman, R. G. Hentschell, Frank S. Hoholik, Donald E. Messier and Donald D. Ott.

Officers are H. K. Bundy, president, A. W. Heitman, vice president, Leonard Males, executive vice president, Clyde Strassler, cashier and Marie J. Sablack, assistant cashier.

EARLY AMERICAN CHARM: The enchantment of a well-designed Early American home is recaptured in this 1½-story, four-bedroom house, with a lot of modern "extras" never even imagined when this style of architecture first made its appearance.

H-49 STATISTICS

Design H-49 has four bedrooms, three bathrooms and a lavatory, a living room, dining room, kitchen with a separate breakfast area, laundry, rear porch and two-car garage. There are 1505 square feet of living space on the first floor, 595 feet on the second floor. The overall length is 78'6", with an overall depth of 30'9", including the garage, which has a rear service entrance as well as indoor-outdoor storage cabinets.

SECOND FLOOR

TOUCH OF THE OLD: Much of the charm of this living room lies in its nostalgic features—fireplace with an arched hearth, a kettle hook and stand, wood slab mantle, wood storage bin, beamed ceiling and double Dutch doors leading to a private rear porch.

Early American Has Charm

By ANDY LANG

There's a quiet, home-grown comfort about Early American design. Its traditional exterior features never go out of style. Many persons who set out to select one of the architectural creations developed in the 20th century find themselves choosing Early American because it so nearly expresses their ideas of what homes should look like.

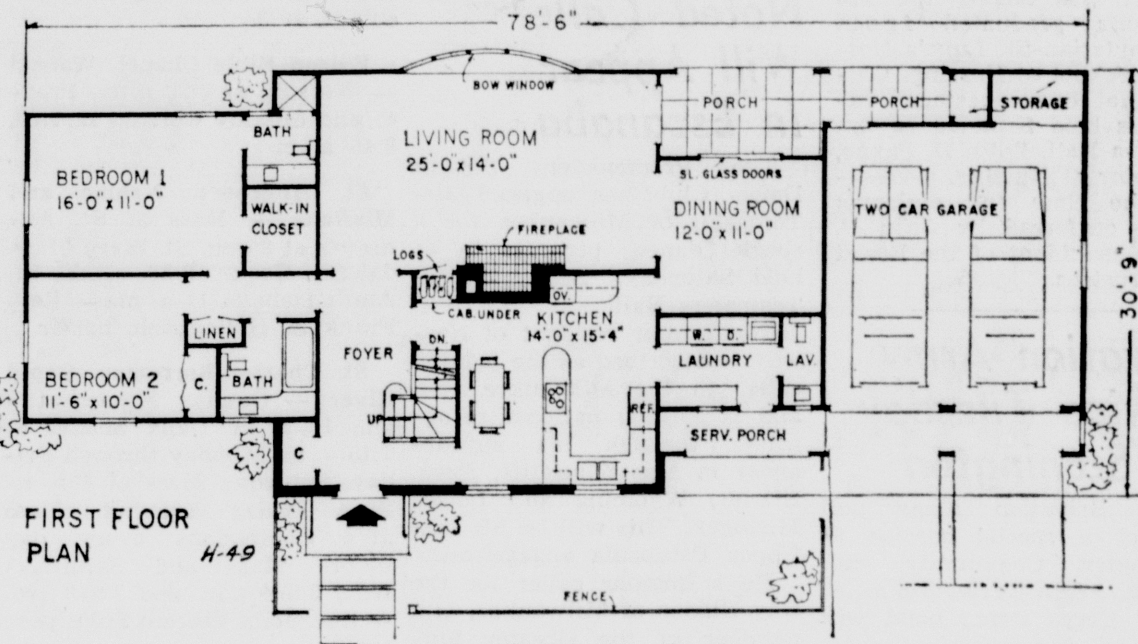

An authentic representation of this ever-popular style has been designed by architect Rudolph A. Matern in the latest House of the Week. Even the "built-on" appearance of many Early American homes has been reproduced in Design H-49. Note the center, stone-faced portion of the house. This parallels the basic living quarters which would have been built first. As the family and its requirements expanded, so did the home with the left and right wings. Here, of course, the entire house is put together at one time.

The high-pitched roof, indispensable in the colonial days because of severe weather conditions, provides sufficient space here for two large bedrooms and plenty of closet and storage room. Where the headroom was very low in the original homes—just enough for storage purposes—it is a full eight feet in this modern adaptation.

The large chimney, centrally located, is also typical of the Early American hearth. This once was the only source of heat and the central location aided to a minor degree, the heating of some of the other rooms. Here the fireplace in the living room is a focal point of interest. The living room has a large bow window looking out on the rear, as well as double Dutch doors providing access to a porch. Add the 25-foot length of this room to the 12-foot length of the dining room and you have a 27-foot sweep. Sliding glass doors in the dining room provide another entrance to the porch.

A large kitchen has an efficiency U-shaped area for food preparation and a separate breakfast section. Adjacent to the kitchen are a laundry and a lavatory, with a front service porch that is out of sight but convenient.

The two-bedroom wing on the first floor, giving the family four bedrooms in all, is buffered from the living area by two well-sized bathrooms. One of the bathrooms is entered from the master bedroom, one from the hall leading to the other bedroom. The 1505 square feet of habitable area on this first floor contains an abundance of closet space, as a glance at the floor plan shows. Not included in this footage is a two-car garage, which has indoor-outdoor storage cabinets, accessible from the garage or the rear porch.

Exterior materials and little touches add to the Early American appearance. Among them are such things as narrow siding, native boulder stone, flush boards, shutters, a picket fence, lamp post and arched garage doors.

FLOOR PLANS: The center-hall foyer and the placement of the two downstairs bathrooms provide a desirable separation between the living and bedroom areas of this house.

Autumn Colors Can Be Used In The Home Too!

Come autumn, Mother Nature decorates her "home" in her prettiest colors.

You can do the same thing—match fall's new look with a fresh new look in your home.

Should you desire to try something really new in the bedroom, use sheets for the curtains, bedspreads, dust ruffles and room dividers. Clever use of various floral patterns, print designs, stripes and embroidery will give the desired effect with a minimum of expense.

All you need is imagination and your own sewing equipment.

TOP THIS

Usually it's not necessary to remove old roofing before re-roofing with heavyweight asphalt shingles. Putting the new roof right over the old one means savings in time and cost and eliminates the risk of bad-weather damage while the job is in progress.

Matched boards, used chiefly for flooring, are usually four inches wide.

Another veteran coach stepping down after the current football season is tall Tom Tipton of the Canadian Soo Collegiate, a familiar figure here when the Holy Name Crusaders played the Wildcats annually. Tipton is stepping down after 27 years as head football coach at the Canadian school. Taking over the post will be John Milliken, Tipton's assistant for the past seven years.

Jerry Schinderle, former Iron Mountain prep athlete, is a leading candidate for the starting right halfback spot at Hillsdale College this fall. Schinderle was an All-U.P. and All-State selection in his senior season with the Mountaineers.

Coach Henry Wylie has three returning letter winners on his Escanaba Eskymo cross country team this fall. Back in the fold are Ray Anderson, Phil Brown and Bob Johnson, all seniors. Menominee is another school that plans to introduce the sport on an interscholastic basis this fall. The U.P. finals will be held at Marquette Oct. 10.

The annual Escanaba Softball Association's banquet which has been set for Oct. 3, will be a stag affair this year. Officials of the association stated that the mixed banquet has been a big money loser in recent years and decided to return to the men-only type banquet which had been the pattern in previous years.

Claude Farrell of the Escanaba Country Club has the distinction of being the oldest golfer to score a hole in one this season. But not by much. Jim Mikelasek, retired Menominee mailman, scored an ace on the 132 yard No. 5 hole at the North Shore club recently. Mikelasek is 74 years old, Farrell 80. It was the first hole in one for both veteran players.

The Northern Michigan University fieldhouse has been named in honor of Charles B. Hedgecock who became a legend in the fields of physical education and athletics at Northern. The Hedgecock building contains a fieldhouse, gymnasium and natatorium. Hedgecock went to Northern in 1922 after compiling a 39-5-3 football coaching record at Menominee High School. He headed the health, physical education and recreation department for 34 years and was coach of all sports at Northern for 11 seasons and head basketball coach for 22, retiring in 1956.

Don Hartman, former outstanding basketball player and track athlete at Nahma High School, has been appointed to the position of graduate assistant in the department of health, physical education and recreation at Northern Michigan University. Hartman, a 1960 Nahma graduate, will assume his new duties Nov. 9 and will enter graduate school in the second semester. At present he is completing a nine week practice teaching assignment at Kingsford under Coach Rae Drake.

The first no-hitter in the Upper Peninsula fall baseball program was turned in by George Torreano of Negaunee. St. Paul in a 13-1 Mid-Peninsula league victory over Republic. Torreano fanned 17 Republic batsmen in the seven inning game and blasted a pair of homers. In another Mid-Peninsula game Brian Brown of National Mine fired a three hitter and whiffed 19 batsmen in a 13-0 decision over Champion.

Pick Packers Over Colts, Lions Over Los Angeles

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — The hungry St. Louis Cardinals, underdogs to the Cleveland Browns, can shake up the Eastern Conference of the National Football League Sunday by upsetting Jimmy Brown and Co. After the New York Giants' disastrous opener in Philadelphia, many pro observers look to the Cards and Browns as the top threats in the East. They also will be stealing glances toward Pittsburgh to see if Y. A. Tittle can bounce back for the Giants.

Minnesota, too, can scramble the NFL's Western Conference form by handing the champion Chicago Bears a second straight defeat. The Bears showed little offensive against Green Bay and the Vikings ran Baltimore out of the park with 463 yards gained, 313 on the ground.

Washington could upend the Dallas Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl. The revamped Skins can run and throw. The Cowboys still are having trouble putting the pieces together.

Green Bay figures over Baltimore, surprising Philadelphia over San Francisco, Detroit over tough Los Angeles and New York over Pittsburgh.

The big one in the American League's three-game weekend program is the replay of last year's championship game — Boston at San Diego. The favored Chargers humiliated the Pats last year 51-10.

Despite upsets by Philadelphia, Minnesota and Boston, things ran close to form in the openers last week. In the NFL we had a 5-2 record and 3-1 in the AFL for a total 8-3.

Taking another stab it looks like this: All games Sunday unless otherwise noted.

NFL

Green Bay 31, Baltimore 20 — If Vikings could run through the Colts' line, Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor should rip it to shreds. Johnny Unitas' arm will keep Colts in ball game.

Minnesota 21, Chicago 17 — Loss of linebacker Larry Morris, possibly for the season, a cruel blow to Bears who must rely on defense with sick offense. Bill Brown and Tom Mason carry the load for Vikings.

Detroit 13, Los Angeles 10 — Saturday night — Battle of two fine defensive units. Rams' front four tough to crack but Lions won't make eight ball-busting errors like Steelers did against L.A. Rams must go again with rookie quarterback Bill Munson.

New York 28, Pittsburgh 14 — Don't be surprised if Giants run a little on Steelers, give Tittle a chance to open with bombs. Giants need bounce back win badly.

St. Louis 17, Cleveland 14 — Two well-balanced offenses but

Hey, Yogi, This Is 1964 When Yankees Can't Win

By The Associated Press

Yoo hoo, Yogi, you can't be in first place. This is 1964.

Yogi, formally known as Manager Berra, and his New York Yankees climaxed a 42-day drive to the top of the American League Thursday night with a 6-2 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels.

The victory lifted the Yankees two percentage points — .593 to .591 — ahead of the idle Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox, who are tied for second.

With two fewer losses than the other contenders, the Yankees appear to be in a good position to capture their fifth straight pennant.

But besides the Orioles and the White Sox standing in their way, the Yankees are faced with the oddity that they've never won the pennant in a year ending in '4.'

Yankee teams have finished second in four of the six years of that type in this century, but that's as close as they've come. Their second place finish in 1954 ended a string of five consecutive pennants.

The Yankees have 17 games in which to shatter that unwanted reputation while Baltimore and Chicago have 13 each in which to extend it.

All three teams play at home tonight with the Yankees hosting Kansas City, Baltimore engaging Los Angeles, and Chicago taking on Washington. New York holds a 9-6 margin over the Athletics, the Orioles are 9-6 with the Angels and the White Sox lead the Senators 11-4.

The Angels-Yankees game was the only one scheduled in the AL Thursday night. In the National League, Cincinnati beat Chicago 7-5 and Philadelphia edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3.

New York's latest victory came with a big help from the bullpen. Roland Sheldon rescued starter Mel Stottlemyre in the seventh inning after the Angels had scored two runs and had the bases loaded with one out.

Sheldon struck out pinch hitter Ed Kirkpatrick and got pinch hitter Felix Torres to hit into a force out.

Stottlemyre, now 7-2, had allowed only one hit through the first six innings. That was a bunt single by Bob Rodgers in the fifth.

Mickey Mantle collected a single, a double and his 31st homer, a two-run smash in the seventh, for New York. His single in the sixth inning was the 2,000th hit of his major league career.

State Elevens Play Saturday

By The Associated Press

The University of Detroit and Western Michigan head the list of 10 more Michigan schools which open their football seasons Saturday.

Three of the teams which started play last Saturday will be playing their second games.

Detroit and Western Michigan both will be playing night games in Kentucky, the Titans against the University of Kentucky and the Broncos meeting Louisville.

Small college action in the state has Michigan Tech at Ferris State, Parsons (Iowa) College at Northern Michigan; Taylor, Ind., at Hillsdale; Findlay, Ohio, at Hope; Manchester, Ind., at Alma; Anderson, Ind., at Olivet; and Northwood at Grand Rapids J. C.

Adrian is at Defiance, Ohio, and Albion at Wheaton, Ill., in the others.

Detroit faces a tough task against the nationally-rated Wildcats at Kentucky, while WMU will be in its first game under Coach F. William Doolittle.

Michigan Tech, a 7-0 victor over Superior State Wis., last week, is expecting another close battle with Ferris. The Huskies defeated their Lower Peninsula rival 8-7 last year.

Ferris defeated Tech 41-0 in 1962.

Rugged Openers For Big College Football Teams

By The Associated Press

Colorado and Southern California kick off the first full weekend of the college football season tonight, a weekend that has more toughies than traditional opening breathers.

The Saturday lineup offers Navy at Penn State, Syracuse at Boston College, Georgia at Alabama, Air Force at Washington, Texas A&M at Louisiana State, Oklahoma at Maryland and Missouri at California as examples of major teams opening with important opponents.

And Mississippi, picked No. 1 in the Associated Press' preseason poll, could have its hands full with Memphis State, a growing power ready to challenge Georgia Tech as the South's top independent.

Southern California, co-favorite with Washington to make it to the Rose Bowl, starts festivities tonight against Colorado, the only major Friday night action and only the second major college game of the season.

UCLA opened the season with a 17-12 upset at Pittsburgh last week.

"We're ready," coach John McKay said after Southern Cal's final workout Thursday. "They've spent three weeks with no scrimmages and everybody wants to do some hitting. The fellows are hungry."

Halfback Mike Garrett, who paced USC to a 14-0 victory at Colorado last year, again is expected to lead the attack. Colorado lost only five men by graduation from the team that compiled a 2-8 mark last season, but is relying heavily on sophomores and is a three touchdown underdog.

Mississippi is favored against Memphis State, but not too heavily. Ole Miss again sports a rock-ribbed defense, and has a score to settle with the oncoming Tigers, who held them to a scoreless tie last season.

Oklahoma, deep and tough, is ranked No. 2, and with quarterback Mike Ringer in good shape, is favored over Maryland. Terrapin Tom Nugent, however, is reminding people he has managed an upset in each of his 27 years as a coach.

One of the top attractions, and one of four regional television games, has 10th ranked Navy at Penn State. The Middies will rely heavily on quarterback Roger Staubach. Penn State is reported to have some thin spots, but is a very slight underdog to the team that was No. 2 in the nation last year.

The other regional TV games are SMU-Florida, Kansas State-Wisconsin and Stanford-Washington State.

Magic Number 10 For Philadelphia

By The Associated Press

The count has reached 10 for both the Philadelphia Phillies and the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The National League-leading Phillies reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to 10 Thursday night while tolling 10 over the Los Angeles Dodgers, handing the defending champions a 4-3 defeat that mathematically eliminated them from contention.

The victory boosted the Phillies' bulge over idle, second-place St. Louis to 6 1/2 games with 15 games remaining and left this magic number situation: Any combination of Phillies' victories or Cardinal defeats totaling 10 will bring Philadelphia its first NL flag since 1950.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, are holding onto second place by only one game over the Cincinnati Reds, who rode a three-homer salvo to a 7-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the only other NL game scheduled.

The Phillies got the job done against Don Drysdale with the aid of three errors that led to four unearned runs, tagging the Dodger right-hander with his seventh straight loss to Philadelphia. Drysdale has not beaten the Phillies since June 1, 1962.

Locked in a 3-3 tie going into the ninth, Drysdale started his own downfall when he hit lead-off batter Ruben Amaro with a pitch. Ron Fairly then added to Drysdale's troubles, grabbing a pop-bunt by John Briggs but throwing wild to first in an attempt to double up Amaro.

Amaro reached second base on the play, moved to third on a single by Tony Gonzalez and scored as Richie Allen hit into a force play.

The Phillies had scored three unearned runs in the first inning as Maury Wills made two errors, but the Dodgers got two back in their half against rookie Rick Wise.

Bobby Shantz then came on for the Phillies in relief and was touched for the tying run in the sixth on Tommy Davis' run-producing single.

Highland Junior Tournament Set

The Highland Junior tournament will be held this Saturday at the club. The tourney is open to children of all members of the club.

Registrations will be held at 9 Saturday morning at the clubhouse. Matches will be started at 9:30. All matches will be medal play.

The breakdown will be by age, with brackets for 10 years and under, 11 through 13, and 14 through 18. There will be boys and girls brackets in each age group.

The tournament is under the direction of Jerry Harris who has handled the Junior program this year.

Shantz, however, wound up with the victory — his first for the Phillies — as he checked the Dodgers on three hits in 7-2-3 innings before leaving for a pinch hitter in the ninth. Drysdale's loss was his 14th against 18 victories.

Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Johnny Edwards homered as the Reds built a commanding 7-1 lead going into the ninth. Jim O'Toole, meanwhile, had retired 22 Cubs in order after allowing a first inning run.

John Boccabella's single, Andre Rodgers' triple, a single by Billy Cowan and Ron Santo's homer chased O'Toole. Sammy Ellis came on and got the last two outs, preserving O'Toole 15th victory against seven losses. Lew Burdette took the loss for a 10-9 record.

The Phillies will try to reduce their magic number against the Dodgers tonight, starting Chris Short, 17-7, against Pete Richert 2-1.

At the same time, their closest pursuers meet head-on at Cincinnati with the Cardinals starting Curt Simmons, 15-9, against the Reds' John Tisoutis, 7-11. Fourth-place San Francisco is at home to Pittsburgh.

'Connie' Wins By Big Margin

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — It was 'orrible, absolutely 'orrible, what Constellation did to Sovereign.

And there is no let up on the horizon even though there will be no racing today at Sovereign's request.

Peter Scott, skipper of the Royal Thames Yacht Club's challenger, put it as well as any one after Sovereign's disastrous defeat in the second America's Cup race Thursday.

With Constellation now needing but two wins to retain the cup for the United States, what did he think of Sovereign's chances?

"I expect pretty much as you do. But, you know, hope springs eternal in the human breast and the final issue is decided after the fourth race, not the second."

The victory margin in time was the widest margin since 1886 in the 19 challenges for the cup — 20 minutes and 24 seconds or about 2 1/3 miles.

If the Gods of the sea are ever going to beam on Sovereign, it seemed they must have been doing so at the start of Thursday's hatch. The wind blew a chilly 21 knots from the Southwest, the kind of blow the British yacht had been praying for.

Racing will resume Saturday, weather permitting. Sovereign is to have some sails recut and she will be out again this afternoon doing homework on spinaker drills.

The program, which is only a year and a half old, seeks to resocialize inmates in specific communities to which they have been paroled.

The Rev. LeVine will teach moralistic values, ethics and philosophy and will coordinate Catholic and Protestant religious services in Wisconsin's nine corrections-conservation camps.

IRON MOUNTAIN—The request by the City of Iron Mountain for a county-wide referendum vote on the controversial time issue was dropped by the county board of supervisors at this week's meeting, after Prosecuting Attorney Francis Brouillette, in an opinion, read to the board, ruled that the legal time of the state is Eastern Standard and that any vote on the issue would be void and of no effect.

He also was president and principal stockholder of radio stations WPMC, Rice Lake, and WHSM, Hayward and Spooner, Wis., and vice president of Spokane Television and Radio, Spokane, Wash.

MENOMINEE—Andrew Bayerl, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bayerl of Menominee Rte. 1, is one of three college students in the 30th legislative district to be awarded a legislative scholarship in the first year of the program's existence.

The legislative scholarship program was initiated May 22 when Gov. George Romney signed a $500,000 appropriation bill to finance the program for the 1964-65 college year.

Proposal Made To Arbitrate Newspaper Tieup

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of two striking craft unions today studied new proposals to end Detroit's 66-day newspaper shutdown.

One proposal called for "final and binding arbitration" on the issues which led to a strike last July 13 by Pressmen and Paper and Plate Handlers union workers at the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News. The proposal came Thursday from officers of the Detroit Newspaper Guild.

The second, not detailed, came from Gov. George Romney.

The Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association, which represents the News and Free Press in contract negotiations with craft unions, said Thursday night it would agree to the Guild proposal.

The Guild is not involved in the strike.

In the Great Lakes region a stand of 25,000 board feet per acre is considered good. In the Pacific Northwest stands of 50,000 board feet are not uncommon.

County Bridge Needs Told By Engineer Karas

Delta County has 30 bridges that should be replaced for the safety and convenience of the traveling public, and this improvement can be accomplished in part if the voters of the county approve a special tax levy for the purpose, said William Karas, superintendent-engineer of the Delta County Road Commission.

The proposition is to levy one-half mill (50 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation) for five years and will be on the ballot in the Nov. 3 general election.

The bridge needs of the county is reported in a "Bridge Report" issued by the Delta County Road Commission, whose members are Elmer Kiesel, chairman; Hilding Norstrom and Earl Paquin.

Need Is Shown

Copies of the report are available to the public from the Commission and have been distributed to groups in the county, including all Parent Teacher associations. The attention of the latter was directed to the relationship of bridges and the school bus transportation child.

"Of all the 'commodities' being transported over these bridges, none are as important as our children," Karas commented in a letter to the school groups. "These same children have little control as to whether they are to be transported over these structures. They must depend on the good judgment of us adults who provide the transportation, order the routing, and in the final analysis furnish the roads we force children to be transported over."

"The solution to this problem is long overdue and no one can predict which bridge will be the first to fail. It will be the first one whose capacity, which is governed by the strength of rotten wood, crumbling concrete, and rusted steel, is first violated," Karas added.

Mark Beginning

The 30 bridges listed have a total of 1,483 feet of span. While each bridge is in itself an individual problem, engineers can assume the 27-foot width average (which is below

State AFL-CIO Meeting Ends

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan AFL-CIO Convention concluded its four-day 1964 program Thursday with adoption of 13 resolutions and plans to convene henceforth in odd-numbered years starting in 1967.

More than 900 delegates, including State AFL-CIO President August (Gus) Scholle who was reelected to a 23rd year in office, attended the sessions here as representatives of approximately 600,000 Michigan union members.

Among the resolutions was one calling for state inquiry into automobile insurance practices. It complained that "higher-premium risk categories were causing undue hardship, often with little or no justification" and suggested as a possible alternative the establishment by the labor body of its own cooperative insurance company.

Others provided that the Michigan AFL-CIO:—Press for lowering of the retirement age under Social Security from 65 years to 60.

—Support legislative action to include government employees in collective bargaining.

—Work toward expanding and strengthening the Michigan Minimum Wage Act.

—Press for tax exemptions on homes valued up to $10,000 per family for retirees, unemployed sick and others on substandard incomes.

—Pursue revision of workmen's and unemployment compensation for greater benefit to eligible persons and seek court determination on eligibility.

—Call for continuance of existing contracts with transit firms involved in expansion or ownership change.

—Oppose reduction of train crews to less than four men.

—Commend President Johnson and lawmakers from Michigan for their efforts in behalf of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Quarrels Infect Reds In China

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's Communist party structure is showing the strain of its massive quarrel with the Soviet party.

Doubt, contradictions and quarrels are infecting the highest levels of the Chinese party.

Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung has ordered a nationwide purge to halt the infection which began with the publication of the theories of Yang Hsien-chen, a philosopher and central committee member who was educated in the Soviet Union.

Yang, whose influence as president of the higher party school was enormous, pushed a theory that it is possible for capitalism and communism to merge. Mao calls this a betrayal of the Marxian theory of class struggle, of China's own line that revolution is the only way to defeat the West and communize have-not nations.

In August, an article in the party's newspaper, the Peking People's Daily, denounced Yang as a proponent of "modern revisionism." This meant he was espousing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's ideas.

For weeks it has been known that not everyone in China agreed with Mao's uncompromising policies of violence. But how deep was the disaffection?

The Sept. 11 issue of "The Peking Review" gives this answer: "At the present time, the debate which has started on the philosophical front in our country is continuing. In terms of numbers of participants or of its widespread influence and great significance, a debate such as this has rarely been seen in our academic circles for many years now. It seems that it is still far from being concluded. Step by step it is deepening. Truth always develops in struggle."

This crisis, heaped on top of his battle with Khrushchev, can threaten Mao's position. He is expected to win.

Trainmen Stop For Bockwurst In East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist bosses of East Germany's railroads are upset about engineers who make unscheduled sausage and beer stops and disrupt the timetables.

At a recent production meeting in the East German town of Greifswald, officials complained that some engineers and conductors call station restaurants along the line to find out which one has fresh bockwurst, a popular German sausage.

"If a restaurant has sausages, an unscheduled stop is made and the train personnel eat them in peace," the meeting was told.
